Welcome to LACNIC Events!

LACNIC, the Latin American and Caribbean Internet Addresses Registry, is an international non-government organization established in Uruguay in 2002. It is responsible for assigning and managing Internet numbering resources (IPv4, IPv6), Autonomous System Numbers, DNS Reverse Resolution and other resources for the region of Latin America and the Caribbean. It is one of five existing Regional Internet Registries. Consolidated as a technical point of reference, the organization offers an online learning platform and promotes Internet exchange points, the installation of root servers, and IPv6 deployment.

Why sponsor LACNIC events?

As part of its efforts to promote the creation of synergies and initiatives for the construction of an open, stable and secure Internet in Latin America and the Caribbean, LACNIC organizes two annual events in different cities throughout the region.

LACNIC events are extremely relevant for the Latin American and Caribbean Internet community, as they provide spaces for multistakeholder dialogue, high-level technical training, and the discussion of topics that are of the greatest interest to the Internet community.

Hybrid events generate spaces for sharing and exchanging experiences and technical knowledge, provide networking opportunities, and allow participants to strengthen their skills.

Both participants and sponsors benefit from a much broader audience, with spaces and tools that allow them to generate new contacts, and which are adapted for both in-person and remote participants.

More than 600 professionals gather on site to attend the various activities and about 1,000 more participate online. These professionals represent leading Internet organizations as well as governments, academia and civil society.
